Rock Garden - Modular Planter - Medium Design Alain Gilles

This large version of the potted rock garden allows the gardener to use larger plants and be more creative and experimental in their planting. The pot has cleaner lines, is hexagonal and compact. The pot can be used to form levels between the different pots, a rhythmic transition using water to draw the eye. It can also stand alone or be used in juxtaposition with other pots.

Specifications:

Rotational molded low-density polyethylene. UV resistant. Fully recyclable. Can resist temperature going from - 20°C to +60°C. Usable inside or outside (water drainage hole). Weight: 8,5kg.

Packaging:

Cardboard box and inner plastic lining.
