

Kotilo (Shell)

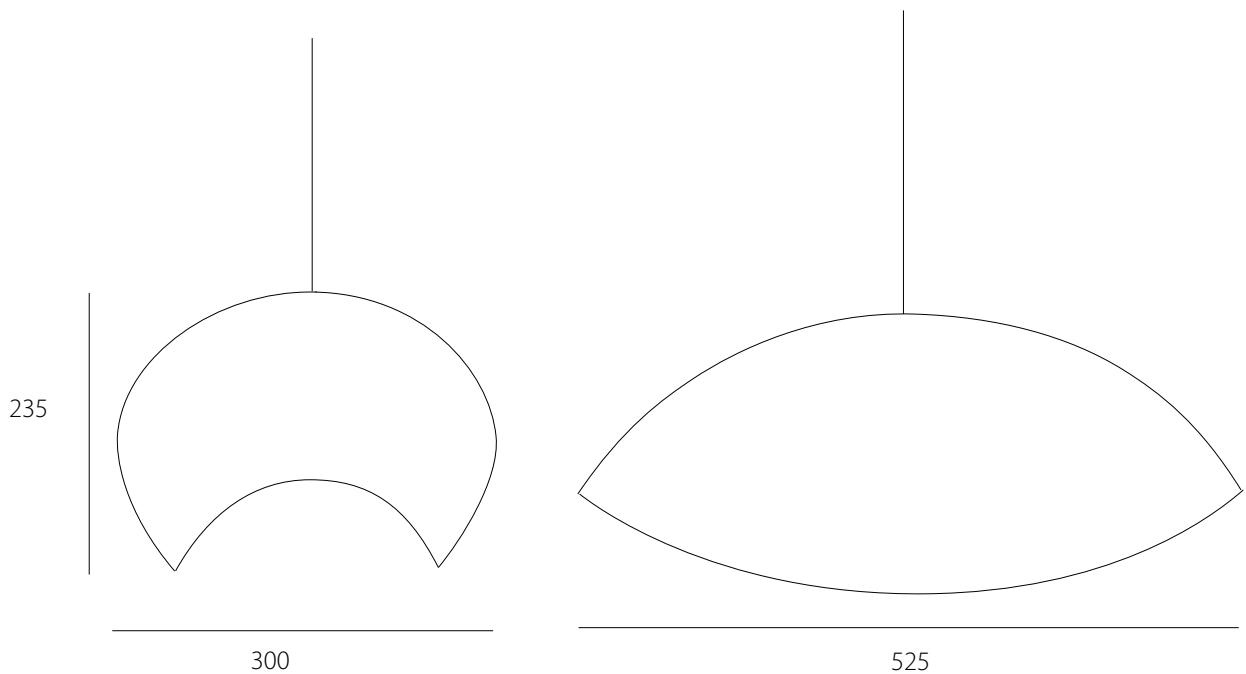

Pendant lamp (2008)

Kotilo (Shell), the metal pendant lamp designed by Eero Sairanen, takes its shell shape directly from nature. The original half-ball is bent to form a different shape, giving the lamp a brand new life as an interesting design creation. The Kotilo lamp fits well above the dining table. The shade conceals two energy saving bulbs and is available in three colours: silver, white and intense cobalt blue.

Colour: white, silver or blue

Material: Aluminium

2xE27

Eero Sairanen

Designer (b. 1965)

Eero Sairanen applies innovative solutions both in terms of forms and manufacturing techniques to his designs. His versatile design range of cosy interior creations includes ceramics, glass, plastic, metal and wood. Eero Sairanen has his own industrial design studio in Helsinki and has been working as the in-house designer for Aarikka Oy's new collection of interior design products.

Aarikka Oy, founded in 1954, is a Finnish design company manufacturing and marketing a distinctive selection of decorative items for homes.

KOTILO

Eero Sairanen bases his interior design ideas on elegant and simple shapes which reveal his appreciation of diverse materials. The soul of his creation is vital, its identity becoming complete with a touch of humour and compassion.

